GENDER EQUALITY PLAN

Annual report 2024

Summary

WORK-LIFE BALANCE AND ORGANISATIONAL CULTURE

The company regulations provide some forms of help to enable employees to reconcile private and working life to the best.

Among these benefits we find the working mode in smart working.

It is possible, to come against the needs of an employee who requests it, to agree on a reduction in working time from full-time to part-time.

This can take place indefinitely or for a fixed period of time, depending on the needs of the employee and the needs of the company.

There is also the possibility of hiring directly part-time according to specific needs.

Every employee is entitled to a fixed number of days of leave in case of marriage, birth or illness of a child.

The company will undertake, as far as possible, to accommodate employee requests regarding work in smart working and part time modes.

In addition, it undertakes to include language neutrality in communications, first internal and then external to the company, so as to avoid any form of discrimination.
